The Great Reaper Cuts Down the Man Whose Inventions Had Revolutionized the World.

Cyrus H. McCormick, After Many Years of Suffering, is Released by Death—His Life.

The Usual Budget of News From All Quarters of the Globe in a Condensed Form.

Death of Cyrus H. McCormick.

CHICAGO, May 13.—Cyrus H. McCormick, the head of the great harvester manufacturing company, and supposed to be one of the richest men in Chicago, died at his home in this city this morning, aged seventy-five years. He has been an invalid for several years.

Mr. McCormick was born in 1809, in Rockbridge county, Virginia, and was a son of Robert R. McCormick, who invented the original reaper in 1816, but afterwards abandoned it on account of its imperfections. The deceased brought the invention to a successful completion in 1831, when twenty-one years old. For this invention he was elected by the French institute as a member of the academy of sciences and received the decoration of the cross of the legion of honor. In politics he was a democrat and has been prominent in his party as a member of the national committee. He founded and liberally endowed the Theological Seminary of the Northwest, conducted under the auspices of the Presbyterian church, and also endowed a professorship in the Washington and Union Theological colleges, of Virginia.

The Methodist Conference.

PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—At the conference of the Methodist church this morning, Bishop Emily occupied the chair. Dr. Martin, of Indiana, conducted the devotional exercises. On motion of Amos Shinkle, of Kentucky, the rules were suspended in order that the reports of the committees might be sent in and printed. The committee on the book concern recommended that the German hymn books be revised. The committee on missions recommended that the missions of Japan, Mexico and Denmark be organized into annual conferences. The committee on lay representation reported in favor of representation in the annual conference on a basis of one delegate to every six pastoral charges in a spreading older district and an additional delegate to every fraction of thirds, to be elected by the district stewards. The committee on episcopacy recommended the election of five bishops, when the order of the day was taken up.

The twentieth anniversary of the Methodist Episcopal Church Extension society will be held this evening. Bishop Harris will preside. Addresses will be delivered by Bishop Foss, Revs. Keynett, Streckley, McCabe and General Fisk.

Fire Record.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Willard's hotel is on fire. The fire caught in the lower part and in the back of the building and ran up the elevator shaft, spreading under the tin roof. The halls and rooms were filled with smoke. A number of men and women escaped from the upper stories by ladders.

LATER.

The fire at Willard's hotel is extinguished. The loss is principally caused by the smoke and water and is not very heavy.

The fire appears to have originated in the vault underneath the washroom, adjoining the office. A great panic ensued, but all reached the ground in safety. The loss will reach $15,000.

DALLAS, Texas, May 13.—About 11:30 last night incendiaries fired one of the finest brick blocks in Dallas, on Main street, in which is located the Exchange bank, three large jewelry houses, and several other fine business establishments. The fire department had the fire under control at midnight. At present the extent of the loss cannot be learned, but it will aggregate many thousands of dollars. There is no clue to the incendiaries. They used coal oil or some other inflammable fluid in a stairway.

When the clerk was informed of the terrible result of the mistake, he dropped to the floor unconscious and is now prostrated and fears are entertained that he will not recover. This is the second death from druggists' blunders here in the past week. On Saturday a clerk in Spohn's drug store gave aqua ammonia and sweet oil in mistake for castor oil and an old lady, Ann Gallagher, who swallowed the dose, died a few hours afterward in great agony. Spohn has been held on the charge of murder.

BURIED ALIVE.

The Roof of a Tunnel Caves in Carrying Death to the Poor Workmen Beneath.

The Bill to Place General Grant on the Retired List With Full Pay Passes.

The Reported Rapture Between France and Morocco Confirmed—The News From Congress.

Buried in a Tunnel.

PITTSBURGH, May 13.—A Somerset, Pa., special says: Intelligence has been received here that a large part of the roof of the eastern end of the South Pennsylvania tunnel, under the Allegheny mountains, at Dexter's Gap, caved in last Saturday night, instantly killing two men and badly injuring three others. The tunnel was being pushed with great vigor, when the workmen struck quicksand, and before any precaution could be taken the roof came down with a crash. Superintendent White had just gone into the tunnel and is so badly crushed that there is little hope of recovery. The names of the others are unknown.

Unanimous consent was given and the bill was at once read a third time and passed without debate or remark. HUNTERING FOR HEMP.

The Adams County Regulators Send a Man Here to Prepare for a Jail Battle—The People Will to Lynch B'hard, Who Declares His Innocence.

Last night a dispatch to Sheriff Schiefer informed him that plans were being arranged in Adams county for a raid on the jail here. The farmers' about Berne, the scene of the Buckeysto murder, have organized as regulators, and propose to string Richards up, no matter what the consequences may be. Mr. Schiefer feared the raid last night and had his deputies well armed on guard. About 8 o'clock a man approached the jail and was covered by Deputy Sheriff Amos Walters. The man, who was middle aged and wore a beard, said he wanted the sheriff. Mr. Walters approached and met no less a personage than Christopher Grim, leader of the Adams County Regulators. Mr. Grim said he was sent up here by his party to survey the jail premises and learn what resistance the lynchers would meet. Mr. Grim was taken to the jail and shown the arsenal. He viewed the guns carefully and coolly remarked: "We propose to get Richards and hang him, but we don't want to kill any person in getting him." Then Mr. Grim left the jail and sought a bed. He called on Sheriff Schiefer again this morning and told him he could expect trouble, but begged him to avoid bloodshed. At noon Mr. Grim returned home and the regulators are expected at any moment now.

The Sentinel representative met Sheriff Schiefer and Robert Stratton in consultation this morning. Mr. Schiefer said he would defend the jail and its prisoners, and Mr. Stratton particularly insisted on protecting his client, Richards, whom he declares is innocent. Richards says a man named Locke committed the murder, and asserts the confession of his stepson is false. Sheriff Schiefer does not believe the confession of Smith either, and it looks as though it will fall through.

The bold determination of the Decatur people is the topic of conversation on the streets to-day and hundreds of citizens express themselves as willing to assist the sheriff in maintaining the majesty of the law. The sheriff is prepared to give the regulators a warm reception, but it is not believed he could hold out long against an armed mob of 500 people.

In Adams county Richards is dreaded, and the people believe no man's life would be safe were he set at liberty. He has always been a bully, and as he weighs 250 pounds and would as soon kill a man as eat supper, the timidity of the Adams county farmers is not to be wondered at.

TICKET THEFTS.

Wabash Tickets Sold to Brokers by Thieving Conductors or Passengers—The Loss Runs Up to the Thousands—The Detectives are Encouraged.

Coupon passenger tickets (unlimited) have been stolen in unknown numbers from trains on the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific road. Detectives in the company's employ have been engaged on the case for the past thirty days. About the first of April a man entered the scaling office of W. T. Lindenberger & Co., Detroit, and offered for sale two unlimited tickets on the Wabash and Baltimore and Ohio Short Line; the tickets reading "from here to Chicago." Lindenberger purchased the tickets for $6.00 each, the regular fare being $8. A few days later two more tickets were purchased by the same broker, over the same route, at his up-town office, and on the same day three others were bought at the Third street office. Subsequently the man entered the latter office with other tickets on sale, and was recognized by Lindenberger, who happened to be present, as the man from he purchased the first two. General Agent Knight, of the Wabash, was notified, and the case was put in charge of one of the road's detectives. Lindenberger was told to continue to buy all the tickets offered. On April 17 he bought one he had sold two days before. It was believed that either the sleeping car conductors or parties on the night trains were the thieves. Which was accordingly kept on these trains, but without avail. A man who was on the eve of arrest in Chicago eluded the officers yesterday, and the latter are now utterly discouraged, and they say that the loss will run into the hundreds and probably thousands.

THE CIRCUS.

Old John Robinson's Side Show Sent Here to Do the Town—Bob Stickey at the Head of the Very Tight Snip.

Last night The Sentinel punctured the Barrett circus snip and induced hundreds to stay away from the entertainment, which was extremely tart. Bob Stickey is the whole show, and that is not saying much for it. Two boys do a clever trapeze act, and trained horses and dogs amuse. The clowns were corn-bushers, and the dude and drunken rider would paralyze a Turk. The show is temporarily detached from old John Robinson's circus, now in the southern part of the state. Bob Stickey, who is John Robinson's son-in-law, manages the gang, with the assistance of a man named Barrett. The tent is overrun with lemons, prize package and book vendors, while the door agents charge two prices for reserved seats. Half the people advertised did not appear and are not with the show. The most pleasant feature of the visit of the party is that they dropped more money at a faro bank than they took out. It is not often an opportunity is offered to wreak such summary vengeance.

Many of the bitters and quack nostrums of the day are also advertised for consumption on the plan that the only thing that the stuff wont cure is the avareicious, ignoble grief of the proprietor. Don't be deceived. The best remedy for strengthening the lungs, soothing all irritation, and stopping the cough, is Dr. Wistar's Balsam of wild cherry. It has cured many cases where physicians had given up hope.

holding a grand reunion here. A reso-

Mexican war. The executive committee will meet on Saturday evening. It is proposed that the lieutenant commanders
in each county of Northern Indiana thor-

to bring all old soldiers out to the reunion, by the appointment of such assistants as they deem necessary to thoroughly canvass their several counties.

Young and Old

Are alike subjects of rheumatism and neuralgia. Youth has the best of it because it seconds the effect of remedies.
But age must suffer on unless the curative agent be, of itself, equal to the task of capturing the stronghold of disease.
None have proved so speedy and strong for this task as Atkaphoros. Says David Little, of Sumner, Bermer county, Iowa:
"Am seventy-seven years old. Have had the rheumatism for nearly four years.
In two days after taking Atkaphoros I walked into the kitchen, without crutch
or cane, and wished the folks a 'Happy New Year.' Thank God for your great discovery."

Isaac Lauferty is ill.

The Adams county grand jury will be convened next week. The cases against Richards, Wurst and Smith will then come up and all may be indicted for the murder of Amos Backensto, if the confession of young Smith is believed.
Robert Stratton will defend Richards,
and J. Q. Stratton Wurst. It will not be safe to take Richards and Wurst to Decatur as the inhabitants swear they will string them up.

Two drunken rowdies boarded the west-bound train on the Wabash, Saturday evening, at Logansport, and made themselves so obnoxious that Conductor Pierce put them off the train at Burrows.
The outlaws had no sooner landed on terra firma than one of them lurled a boulder and knocked the conductor senseless. He was carried into the car and after a short time regained consciousness. A search was at once instituted, but up to date the ruffians have not been found. Superintendent Stevens telegraphed instructions to have every attempt made to take the guilty party into custody. It is thought that Mr.
Pierce will lose the use of his right eye.

patronize Sordozont because it perpetuates and increase the most important item in the sum of loveliness, beauty of the teeth.
Let the mouth be ever so small, a very cupid's bow, if filled with discolored teeth it is repulsive. Whitened and preserved with this peerless dentifrice, the teeth form a delightful contrast to the rosate hue and lovely curve of a pretty mouth. Sordozont is far preferable to gritty tooth powders.

R. K. HELPHENSTINE—Sir: In reply to your letter asking me about Durang's Rheumatic Remedy, I have to answer that I have never found anything that would help me until I tried it. I think it is the most wonderful medicine ever used for rheumatism. Nothing can be said in praise of Durang's Rheumatic Remedy that will not meet my hearty approval.
Yours truly,
W. F. BOWEN.
